THE CONDEMNED SEVEN.

HOW THE ANARCHISTS FEEL OVER THE RESULT.

From Their Appearance They Are Evidently Resigned to Their Awful Fate, Incidents of the Visiting Hour at the Jail-Rumor That Spies Will Suicide.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 .- If the condemned Anarchists laid awake last night and pondered over the horrible import of the failure of their final appeal to the legal tribunals of the country, there were no evidences of the fact in their appearance or actions this morning. All of them were awake and up with the lark, and ate as heartily as on the first day of their sojourn behind the bars. Parsons and Spies were busily engaged in writing until 9 o'clock, when she seven cell doors were opened and the prisoners bounde i lightly down the iron steps to the cage. For the next hour the place was filled with the clatter of tongues and the practle and shouts of the little ones, and the scene might have been taken for the convalescent ward of a hospital rather than the murderers' row of Fisher's sister, who was accompanied by his two young children, not much older than those of Schwab's, brought him news that his wife was suffering from a severe attack of nervous exhaustion, brought on by the unfavorable news and was unable to leave the house. The news depressed him for a while, but when he was assured that he would see her to-morrow, he bright-

Black would not talk when he left the building, but it subsequently transpired that his conference had relation to the movements in favor of executive clemency, and the actions of Lingg and Fischer in withdrawing from the group was taken by the jail officials as an indicating that these two at least meant to abide by the declarations in their published letters, that they would neither ask or seek for mercy at the hands of the governor. The regulations which were put in force by Sheriff Matson were carried out to the letter this morning. Only relatives of the prisoners and the reporters were admitted to the row, and every package intended for th condemned men, no matter how small, was carefully examined before being delivered. The Sheriff, who was at the fail from an early hour, said that several days ago he had heard rumors to the effect that more than one of the Anarchists would take poison rather than go to the scaffold. "I don't see very well how we are to prevent it," he add d. "We are taking all precautions possible. There will be no chance for them to have firearms, knives or other weapons in their cells, but enough poison to kill all of them might be passed through the bars and escape the eye of the most vigilant watcher. Still I hardly think any of them will do anything of the kind."

A rumor is current that Spies, the Anar-chist, has determined to commit suicide rather died on the gallows. There are Anarchists in Chicago who declare that Spie will never be hanget. They agree that no earthly power can avail, but stoutly maintain that their leader will cheat the gallows. The intelligence has been communicated to the proper authorities. They may be able to thwart any suicidal attempt which Spies may make, but if so, greater precautions must be enforced. Under existing regulations it would be an easy matter to convey to the doomed seven enough poison to kill seventy men.

How Convict Neebe Received the News. JOLIET, Ill Nov. 4.-Luis Neebe, brother of Oscar, the Anarchist, doing a fifteen-year sentence here, visite i his convict brother at the prison to bring u.n the news of the doorn of the condemned at Chicago. Neebe was overcome with emotion and the brothers shed copious tears, conversing in German. Convict Neebe had but yesterday received a letter from Spies, in which the latter abandoned all hope from supreme court and rested his case with the governor.

Protest From Paris. PARIS. Nov. 4.-Minister McLane in acknowledging the receipt of the letter from M. Barodets, president of the deputies of the extreme left, to Governor Oglesby, of Illinois, praying for clemency for the condemned Anarchists, says: "I have already informed you that the death penalty in America is limited to crimes against the common law. It is never imposed for political offences, and while I feel that it is necessary to point to this distinction, I unhesitatingly say that I am interested in any steps to save human lives. FIRE PANIC IN CHICAGO.

The Burning of a Club House Creates an Excitement in Two Hotels.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 .- Shortly after 3 o'clock this morning an extensive fire was discovered in the upper stories of the Chicago club on Monroe street, opposite the ladies' entrance to the Palmer house. A general alarm was sounded, and soon fifty streams were playing on the burning parts. Half a dozen club members, and as many women, who are employed about tue club, were asleep in the building at the time. They had no warning of the flames, until the fire men rushed into their apartments and jerked them out boility. The members all escaped, but as the building was full of smoke, it is not known whether all the women got out or not. The damage to the club is $150,000, as all the furniture and piotures were ruined by water. Everything was insured.

When the guests of the Palmer house heard the engines and hose carts dash up, and the noise of the firemen, a wild panic ensued. At the windows on Monroe street appeared a hundred frightened faces, peering into the streets, and at the sight of the many engines a rush for escape followed, under the impression that the hotel was on fire. Half-clad ladies and gentlemen tumbled out into the halls and shrieked wildly for help. All the bellboys were promptly sent to the rooms of the guests, and with the aid of the clerks succeeded in calming the panic, though many of the guests re fused to return to their rooms until the hose carts had reeled up their hose and started.

The smoke also entered the Clifton house, and its guests rushed to the streets to escape what they thought would be a holo-

Small Village Destroyed.

SANDUSKY, O., Nov. 4 .- Fire at Castalia, this county, early this morning destroyed $45,000 worth of property. It originated between the postoffice and Frank Deighan's store, and is supposed to have been incendiary. The entire business portion of the village was destroyed. The insurance probably covers one-half the loss.

Sagressional Election in Louisiana New ORLEANS, Nov. 4 .- Returns from a majority of the parishes of the Sixth Congressional district, show that Col. Sam. M. Robertson was elected to congress yesterday by a very weak vote. There was absolutely no enthusiasm, and had the Republicans made any effect they would elected Yost without any difficulty, as in the western end of the district he is very popular and Robertson is unknown. In several parishes no Yost tickets were to be had, and in St. Tammany those who had them were persuaded not to vote them. Robertson will not get 5,000 votes all told.

To Protect British Sealers. MONTREAL, Nov. 4 .- Admiral Heneage left for Victoria, B. C., yesterday to assume command of the Pacific squadron. In an interview he said that one of his first official acts would be to visit Alaska waters and to protect British interests there. He will not allow a British vessel to be molested outside the three-mile limit. The recent seizures in Alaska waters, he understands, will form a a part of the fisheries inquiry. He will make a special report to the British postoffice department on the Canadian Pacific railway as an imperial route to the east.

ORDNANCE OF OUR ARMY

WHAT GENERAL BENET SAYS IN HIS ANNUAL REPORT.

He Claims That the Days of Peaceful Arbitration Have Not Yet Arrived, and That There is a Necessity for Sea Coast Armament-Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 .- Gen. Benet, chief of ordnance of the army, in his annual report says: "It is not necessary to enter into a discussion of the necessity for sea coast armament, nor of the possibility of fu ure disbandment of armies and the settlement of international controversies with the pen instead of the sword. What may be in the near or distant future in this regard the most astute statesman cannot divine. Our dealings, however, are with. the immediate present, and if the recurrence of wars are likely to follow ample preparation, Europe in arms would seem to indicate that the days of peaceful arbitration have not been reached.

"It can hardly be recommended that while waiting for thi future possibility, our .. res should continue unguarded, and at the mercy of the most insignificant belligerent. Rams and torpedoes and dynamite guns are powerful auxi juries in harbor decenses, but the war conditions yet obtaining will not dispense with the hard hammering of heavy snot moving with high velocity, because these auxiliaries themselves need protection, and of a most perfect character. The dynamite guas, with a limited range, cannot be left to the mercy of the much longer reaching guns of the enemy's snips. The attacking snips must be kept at a distance by heavy guns and long range mortars, the comparatively low cost of mortars enabling us to compensate by numbers for any lack of accuracy of fire. As a projectile force gunpowder stands supreme. It strikes its terrific blow at long distances; its arm reaches many miles; it plants its blow with unerring certainty. "We cannot dispense with such a force, so readily handled, so thoroughly understood. Heavy cannon are therefore a necessity, and must be provided, and our unprotected coasts demand they be provided speedny. These necessities also demand that they be of the most approved quality; cannon of steel which have been adopted by the world after most thorough and satisfactory experiment and trial; cannon that will place this Nation on an equality with the most powerful. It will cost money; but not more than the loss to the cities of New York and Brooklyn from one day's bombardment. All this and more is known to congress and the country. Reports of boards and committees reports of official experts, the writings in the public press, individual views, all have kept this important matter before the people, and the responsibility for weal or woe, for success or disaster, must remain with the people. At this time no half measure will go. Congress should decide, and decide at once. Another year ought not to pass without a settle and well defined policy in regard to the National defen es.

Gen. Benet says that such progress has try as to demonstrate that the largest and best guns can be produced. The dynamite guns and projectiles are recommended. Large appropriations for mortars and heavy ordnance are urged. The militia is reported to have reached a higher degree of efficiency and rifle-practice in the army shows great improvement.

A DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

J. W. Van Keuren Gives His Wife Polson and Takes a Dose Himself.

ROUNDOUT, N. Y., Nov. 4.—A tragedy has been enacted at Highland, Ulster county, that has ended one life and imperiled another. Last Saturday J. W. Van Keuren and wife, of Utica, arrived in Highland to visit Mr. Haight, the father of Mrs. Van Keuren. Yesterday the visitors appeared to be in their usual good health and spirits. Last night on retiring Van Keuren handed his w.f. a tumbler, telling her to drink half the contents, and he would drink the other haif. He said it was medicine they both needed. Mrs. Van Keuren laughingly said her husband knew best, and she swallowed her portion. A little later she felt griping pains in her stomach and a burning sensation in her throat. She was horrified when her husband told her that it was a mixture of strychnine that they had drank. Mrs. Van Keuren cried aloud for help, and her friends administered emetics. Van Keuren said he wanted no emetics. He said they both wanted to die, and he fought desperately against being forced to swallow an antidote or an emetic. He expired in terrible agony in the presence of his wife, her family and physicians, who had been ment for.

Mrs. Van Keuren is still alive and it believed she will recover. Van Keuren left a letter, in which he said he intended administering the poison after cool deliberation, and as the only means of rescuing his wife from insanity.

The relatives of Mrs. Van Keuren said to a reporter that she had never shown crazy signs of mental aberration, and that the suicide, up to the hour of his terrible death, was considered one of the strongest minded of men. The motive for the crime seems to be gnaccountable. The cornor's investigation throws no light on the tragic case. Van Keuren, in his letter, said he asked one favor of the world, and that was, when his body and his wife's were consigned to the grave, that it should be said; "They loved each other." Nine years ago Van Keuren studied for the ministry, but he never took

NEGROES EXCHANGED WIVES.

A Southern Custom Among Blacks the Cause of a Bloody Battle. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 4. - A fatal affray at a negro church is reported from West Felic-iana parish. Following a custom in vogue among plantation negroes in portions of the south, two members of the congregation exchanged wives two years ago. The bargain did not prove satisfactory and quarrels arose among the members of the much-mixed families, which gradually involved nearly the entire congregation.

It was decided a few days ago by the par-ties involved to meet at the church and settle all difficulties by a general fist fight. A large number were present at the appointed time, but the conditions upon which the fight was arranged were not observed. As soon a: the parties came together knives and pisto s were drawn and a bloody row followed, the result of which was that Edmund Turner and Gibson Clark, the principals, were killed outright, and James Stowbery was severely if not fatally wounded

Isreal Davis, William Jordan and James Williams are under arrest charged with muider, and warrants are out for other participants in the riot.

Fourteen Months Overtime.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 4. - It was discovered in the exe unve office this morning that Charlotte Jones, a penal convict from Decatur county, had been held fourteen months after the expiration of her sentence. The woman wa first sentenced to the penitentiary for fifteen years. After she had lefs the county to take her place in the Dade coal mines, Judge Fleming reduced her term to five years. By some oversight the state authorities were never notified of the reduction of sentence. She has now served six years and two months. This morning a letter was received from the clerk of the Decatur superior court, stating that he had learned the woman was still in the penitentiary, and inclosing the original orders in the case. Principal keeper ordered her immediate discharge from stripes. Thus while the woman obtains her freedom nine years sooner than she expected it, yet she has been defrauded out of fourteen mouths' freedom to wnich she was entitled.

Not an Accident. Sr. Louis, Mo., Nov. 4. - While removing debris yesterday from the cellar of the Newman building, where the explosion oc-curred Tuesday morning, an important development was made. It was discovered that the explosion did not occur in the Newman building at ail, but in the cellar adjoining on the south, under the house occupied by the Devere family. The foundation wail separating the two buildings has two holes each about six feet wide and some twenty feet apart knocked in it, and the heavy masonry of the wail was blown into Newman's cellar. This confirms the report that there were two explosions, and further examination may reveal the nature of the agent used, and a clew may be obtained to the identity of the fiend who perpetrated the diabolical act. Exposed by Accident.

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 4.—On Sunday two men and two young women arrived on a train from Atchison and took a carriage for a drive around the city. The horses ran away and threw them out against a lamppost, injuring all of them. They refused to give their names, one of the men saying that if their escapade became known in Atchison they would be ruined. On Monday one of the women died of her injuries after confessing to a minister that she was Mrs. Minnie Morrison, wife of a merchant of Atchison. It has since been learned that the others of the party are Will Van Doren, G. A. Dascomb, a traveling salesman, and Miss Ida Leapson, daughter of an Atchison business man. Miss Leapson will recover, but her face will be badly disfigured.

Masked Burglars.

New York, Nov. 4.—Two masked burglars entered the residence of Samuel McGreery, in Flushing, N. J., Tuesday night, and after going through the lower part of the house ascended to the sleeping apartments for more booty. The first room entered was occupied by the daughter of Mr. McGreery and her husband Albert Wangier. As they entered the room Mr. Wangler was aroused and made an attempt to seize his pistol. One of the burglars threw a blanket over Wangler's head and that of his wife, and told them not to remove it under peril of death. While one of the burglars stood guard by the bedside, the other cooily went through the rooms securing about $1,500 worth of diamonds and jewelry. There is no clew.

Ball Players on a Drunk.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 4.—Several members of the New York base ball club were intoxicated when they entered the grounds to play a game with the New Orleans nine on Monday last. Their conduct was disgraceful, and Secretary Kaufman called on a police officer to eject them from the grounds. When the officer tried to arrest them Mike Kelly tried to prevent the arrest, but no attention was paid to him. Capt. Ward took his wife from the grounds, and placing her in a carriage sent her to the St. Caarles hotel, because of the disgraceful exhibition of some of the spectators and players. The club will probably disband.

Coroner's Verdict in the Lake Disastes. GREEN BAY, Wis., Nov. 4. -A coroner's inquest was held last evening on the body of the fireman found on the raft belonging to the propellor Vernon. The verdict is as fol-"The deceased came to his death by lows: reason of exposure on a life-raft on Lake Michigan, off Sheboygan, Sunday morning, October 30, 1887, having been compelled to seek the aforesaid raft by reason of the sinking of the Vernon. HOLBROOK, Ariz., Nov. 4 .- The north and south mails were held up by one man about midnight on October 31, between St. Jons and Navajo. No passengers were with the south mail.

A Grand Success.

The mission given by the Redemptorist fathers at St. Patrick's Chu ch is a:ready a success. The services are all well attended. At the evening services the church is taxed to its full capacity. The good fathers are gratified to know that they have succeeded in bringing back persons to the church that have neglected their religious duties for years. They are doing a power of good among the parishioners. Father Mullane preached a lengthy sermon last night, taking his text from St. Mathew, chapter 18, verse 17. His sermon was clear, impressive and instructive and was well received. The mission for the ladies will continue the rest of the week, and all are invited

The liabilities are roughly estimated at over $200,-000, and the assets in excess of that amount. The assigned property consisted mainly of bonds, stocks and real estate. Mr. Smith is an old resident of Cincinnati and a son-inlaw of Nicholas Patterson. One son is in the whisky business in this city. He has two brothers, wealthy iron founders, in Pittsburg, Pa. Up till a short time ago he was president of the Queen City National bank of this city, but failed of re-election at the recent election of officers. Mr. Smith is an extensive owner of real estate in Cincinnati and suburbs. It had been known on the street for some time that Mr. Smith was financially embarassed and his assignment does not create much surprise. Among the brokers it is thought Smith's liabilities will at least equal his assets.

Tragedy at a Wedding.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 4.—A wedding festival, east of this city last night, was the scene of a tragedy. A large number of peo-ple had gathered at the house of Walter Jackson to witness the marriage of his daughter to Ben Williams. After the ceremony there was some shooting outside the house in celebration of the event, after which the men returned to the house. Carl Lipp, nineteen years old, took his revolver from his trousers pocket because it felt uncomfortable, and was about to put it in his coat when it was accidentally discharged. The bail struck Mr. Jackson, the father of the bride, in the abdomen, making a wound from which he died in a few minutes.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 4 .- The labor troubles on the sugar plantations are becoming serious. State troops now guard the Lacassaigne plantation in Terrebonne parish, where four white men were yesterday shot and wounded by the negro strikers. At present over 10,000 negro laborers are on strike. They have been summoned to return to work or leave. Reports from Receiand, La., say that the strikers in that region are tarbulent and threatening, and the citizens have asked for protection. The sheriff with a posse has been ordered to that Eloped With a Colored Jockey. Moon CITY, Iowa, Nov. 4. - Thomas Jefferson, a colored horse jockey, and Miss Marther Fairer, white, a young lady of very respectable parentage, have eloped. They have purchased tickets for Minneapo-lia. The affair has created quite a sensation. The parents will make no endeavor to rescue their daughter.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

WAS VERY UNCOMFORTABLE.

Passengers Carried in Open Trucks Fitted with Wooden Seats-The Story Told by an English Railway Journal-Rules and Regulations.

Fifty years ago third class passengers were carried in open wagons or trucks, fitted with wooden and uncushioned seats, and the carriages were attached to the goods trains. The second class carriages were, in regard to comfort, but little, if anything, better than the thirds. They were open throughout at the sides. There was no glazing, and the partitions above the level of the doors, dividing the carriage into six compartments, each made to seat twelve persons, were formed of laths interlaced, and admitting free currents of wind and air, to the discomfort of the unfortunate travelers. The passengers for the various in ermediate stations were put into separate compartments and the doors locked. The clear length of each compartment on some lines was only 8 feet 71/2 inches, and the width 4 feet 41% inches, each seat being 15 inches in width. Stout passengers had some difficulty in squeezing through the doors, which were only 18 inches wide. The first glazed and inclosed second class carriage that ever ran upon a railway was in the first express train that ran between London and Exeter. The journey was made in five hours, the marvels of railway traveling. Today 000 carriages, many of which are fitted with the luxuries and beauties of a drawing room, and even the third class are more comfortable than the first of fifty years ago.

Not only are most of these carriages comfortably and conveniently arranged, but the safety of those who use them is increased by appliances which were not even dreamt of by our railway forefathers. Of the total rail way carriages 91 per cent, are now fitted with continuous brakes, while 94 per cent. of the double line of the country is worked on the absolute block system.

TICKETS AND BAGGAGE.

The method of issuing tickets fifty years ago was very different from that now in use. From the earliest times of railway traveling the date was required to be written on the ticket, as well as the amount of fare and the time of the train by which the passenger was to start. These particulars had to be entered on a counterfoil in the book of tickets.

The arrangements for luggage were delightfully simple. "Each passenger's luggage will," said the time bill, "as far as practicable be placed on the roof of the coach in which he has taken his place; carpet bags and small luggage may be placed underneath the seat opposite to that which the owner occupies." A capital arrangement for securing punctual attendance was the announcement:

"Passengers intending to join the trains at any of the stopping places are desired to be in good time, as the train will leave each station as soon as ready, without reference to the time stated in the tables, the main object being to perform the whole journey as expeditiously as possible. Passengers will be booked only conditionally upon there being room on the arrival of the trains, and they will have the preference of seats in the order in which they are booked. No persons are booked after the arrival of the train. All persons are requested to get on and alight from the coaches invariably on the left side, as the only certain means of preventing accidents from trains passing in an opposite direction."

NO SMOKING ALLOWED. What would modern travelers say to the following notice: "No smoking allowed in the station houses or in any of the coaches, even with the consent of the passengers. A substantial breakfast may be had at the station house at Birmingham by parties going by the early train, but no person is allowed to sell liquors or eatables of any kind upon the line. The com-pany earnestly hope that the public will cooperate with them in enforcing this regulation, as it will be the means of removing a cause of delay and will greatly diminish the chance of accident." The engines in use on the Stockton and Darlington line in 1837 weighed about twelve tons, and had 141/2 inch cylinders and a piston stroke of 16 inches. The three pairs of wheels were each 4 feet in diameter, and the pressure of steam varied from 36 pounds to 60 pounds. Many of the engines had only four wheels, and it was considered a great step in advance when six wheel engines were placed on the railways, the argument in their favor being that, if by any accident one of the six wheels broke, the engine would still remain erect, while if one of the four collapsed the result would be the downfall of the locomotive. On the Birmingham and Derby junction line the engines weighed ten tons ten hundredweight, and the two driving wheels were 5 feet 6 inches, and the four carrying wheels 3 feet 6 inches each.

In contrast to the above, we subjoin an illustration of the famous "Marchioness of Stafford" engine, exhibited by the London and Northwestern company at the Inven-tions exhibition in 1885, and adopted as the type of the company's express locomotives. With tender, this type of engine weighs fiftyfour tons eleven hundredweight, and the cargo of coal is five tons. The driving wheels are 6 feet 6 inches in diameter; and the engine is worked at a pressure of 175 pounds to the square inch. The greatest novelty in these engines is, however, the adoption of the "compound" system, by which the expansive power of the steam is fully utilized .- London Railway News.

Rudeness of the Traveling Public. The other day at dinner the conversation turned upon the selfish rudeness of a portion of the traveling public. One of the persons at the table related this incident: Some months ago the passengers on a night train on a branch railroad were kept awake by the foud and incessant conversation indulged in by two men sitting at one end of the car. There were no sleeping cars attached to the train, and one of the men in the course of their wearisome babble remarked: "It seems to me that a road which doesn't furnish sleepers ought at least to fit up their cars with head rests, such as you find on some of the eastern roads." Whereupon a voice at the other end of the car replied: "Head rests wouldn't help much in this car so long as those two men down at the other end keep on talking." The passengers roared with de-light, and one of the two offenders bristled up and declared he'd talk just as much as he pleased, but retty soon quiet reigned. The passenger who so neatly administered the needed reproof was Edward Everett Hale .-New York Tribung.

GRAVE TARD CONTINGENCIES.

Thos. Guiltoile, buryl g dog and cat.....$ Mr. Wood read a statement showing that the cost of feeding prisoners in the station house the past month amounted to $60.531. The work done by these prisoners amounted to $63 50. Of the taken out of the treasury without any return. He thought something should be done to avoid this expense. It was that way every month. Mr. Heiser thought prisoners were fed to well, and favored putting vagrants, and such as did no work, upon a diet of bread and water. After a general discussion the Marshal was directed to put all prisoners-males and females-at work either on the streets or in the station house yard.

Mr. Mathews thought the gutter and wall should be built as soon as possible. All were of that opinion, but the question as to the cost of the work was the point to be first settled. Mr. Hendrixson thought the railroad company was liable. If the city had to pay the cost then there was a wall along Third street for about 1,000 feet to be built and the expense would be a heavy one. The matter was finally referred to Committee on Laws and Ordinances to investigate and report.

The account of Jack Woods for work done on West Third street was referred to the Committee on Claims and Accounts for settlement.

Dennis Geheen was granted a suspension of the payment of his taxes. The matter of the railroad crossing at Bridge street was brought up by Mr. Wood, who said he hoped some action would be taken at once to avoid any trouble at that point. If the railroad was permitted to cross the street at the height now decided upon it would seriously interfere with travel and greatly damage the street as a thoroughfare. The question was a grave one. All recogvored the railroad company at all times, and Mr. Wood thought the company should so construct its track as not to interfere with travel at that point. If the company refused to raise the grade to a proper beight he was in favor of revoking the ordinance granting the right to cross the street at the present grade. It was clearly the intention of Council when the ordinance was passed that the railroad should be at such a height as not to ob- CLOAKS. struct travel over the street. Mr. Mathews said the railroad company recognized that it had no right to obstruct travel over the street, and Colonel Child was referred to the Committee on Turnpikes and Railroads and the Committee on Propositions and Grievances to confer with Colonel Child and have a called meeting of Council if said committees thought necessary. The following resolution was intro-

The BULLETIN's representative at Mayslick says William Fields, a colored lad, son of Mat Fields, was accidentally shot Wednesday while out rabbit-hunting. The accident was the result of carelessness, as is too often the case with young hunters. Fields attempted to climb over s fence without first letting down the hammers of his gun. The weapon was discharged and the load of shot struck him in the face, tearing out one eye. A part of his tongue was torn off and he was otherwise injured.

THE NEWS FROM ABROAD.

GERMANY'S EFFICIENT SECRET AGENTS IN EUROPE.

Mow the Kaiser's Government is Informed of Everything Which Transpires in the Adjoinining Counties - A Number of Lives Lest in a Mine Explosion.

LONDON, Nov. 4 -It appears to be indisputable that the Germans, who are seized every little while with spasms of virturus indignation at the real or fancied presence of French spies in the Fatherland, have them-Solves the most efficient secret agents in Europe, by whose patient and watchful in-vestigations the German government is promptly informed of everything worth knowing, which transpires in adjoining countries, particularly in France and Rus-

German officers of rank and reputation do not appear to disdain such occupation and ambitious young subaiterns find in it a path to consideration and future promotion. To the qualities of courage and adroitness they add that of being thorough linguists, and they are Alsatians in France or Germanhating Poles in Russia, as the case may be. A report which has accidentally come to light gives one of these agents empressions of the Russian reserve of 200,000 men called together at the beginning of October and recently dismissed. He found the corps composed of good material, notwithstanding the advanced age of some of the men, giving promise of being tenacious in action, but stolid and much inferior in intelligence to the German soldiers. Their arms, he states, are poor and of different patterns, the ammunition and clothing inferior, and the commissariat service badly managed. Though his duties were practically limited to the observation of the reserve, his generalizations agree with the conclusions of other German officers that the Russian armies are formidable in numbers only.

There is also no doubt that the most accurate information is duly received at Berin regard to the massing of Russian troops at Warsaw, and the progress of the new fortifications near the frontier, particularly those at Kovno and Biaiystok, on which an immense number of men are employed. The activity of the Russians in putting their side of the border in a proper defensive condition, or making of it a fortifed camp as a point of support for any possible offensive movements is more than equaled by the energy with which the Germans are acting along their frontier. Konigsberg and Zilau, it is safe to say, can resist any attack made from the Baitic, but the works of Thorn, from their advanced position, forming a rampart against any Russian advance, and the magnitude of their conception are so important as to warrant the many attempts as yet unsuccessful, made to obtain possession of accurate plans of their dimensions and armament. An inquisitive French officer whose efforts for enlightenment on this subject came nigh ensuring him a prolonged sojourn in Spaudau, is responsible for the statement that for extent and consummate ability of design they will, when completed, be "the marvel of the world."

Reducing Railroad Time.

LONDON, Nov. 4 .- A representative of the Union Steamship company had an interview with Premier Sagasta, at Madrid yesterday, and obtained from him a promise to use his influence to reduce the time of the Thriftless second, Pegassus third.
